"IT'S AN ILL WIND THAT BLOWS NO MAN GOOD"

HOW IT HAPPENED

Some months ago our window trimmer noticed a small crevice between the east wall and the window. Attention was called to the fact at that time but little did anyone think the building in a serious and dangerous condition.

Thursday, September 17, this crevice had widened to about six inches. Friday we could notice the cement covering of the brick under the lower corner of the window was crumbling and later in the day the large glass in the vestibule side of this window cracked.

Saturday morning Mr. Covington, after looking at the wall, decided to call the attention of the Masons to its condition. At 8:10 he walked out of our door into the Madison National Bank to consult Mr. Burnam. Pooner Phelps, B. G. Nunneley and the porter, John Cobb, were moving a box of clothing out the front door; Messrs. Jesse Dykes and J. H. Leeds were just a little back.

Without a moments notice we heard a crack and, thanks to instinct the first three ran out the front door just in time for the entire front to crash at their backs. The last two men ran to the back door only to find the compression had thrown the back door shut and locked breaking the glass, so they opened a window and escaped.

In less than one hour we were moving our stock to the "House of Hurst" next door to Joe's, where you will find all of us healthy, busy and happy, ready to serve you with the best and newest line of men's and boys' wearing apparel ever shown in Central Kentucky and at reduced prices in order to reduce our stock as our new home is much smaller than our old home was for 23 years.

Our Clothing, Hats and Shoes were not damaged at all, with the exception of those on display in the windows. We are simply to crowded and POSITIVELY MUST REDUCE OUR STOCK to meet conditions unavoidable
